Ages of Men Before the Flood.

Charles S. Bryant, of St. Paul, in a communication in the Popular Science Monthly, offers some considerations to show that there was no disparity between the ages of the patriarchs and those men of later time. He says that a very slight error in the translation of the Hebrew numbers has led to all the apparent disparity, and insists on the authority of Genesis v. 3, that the age of the antediluvian was not to exceed 120 years. The passage reads: "And the Lord said my spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh, yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years."

Mr. Bryant ascribes the errors, the ages given in the bible, to the improper rendering of concrete numerals by the translators. He says that Genesis v. 3, is properly rendered, "Adam lived a hundred and thirty years and begat a son," etc.; but if this verse had been translated as the fifth is, in the authorized version, it would read thus: "Adam lived thirty hundred years and begat a son!" This "shocked the conscientiousness of the Christian translator, and he was driven to the true rule the Hebrew uses in cases of concrete numerals." In the fifth verse the authorized version reads: "And all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years, and he died." The true reading by the rule, Mr. Bryant says, would be, "And all the days which Adam lived, were a hundred years, and thirty and nine years, and he died," making the entire age of Adam 139 years, instead of 930 years. Mr. Bryant further says that at the date of the writing of Genesis the Hebrew had no means of writing nine hundred, or any number of hundreds above one, without repetition or circumlocution. He gives the following as the ages of the patriarchs before the Noachian deluge, remarking that they are subject to a few uncertainties in the number below one hundred:

	Correct	Ages as Given in Bible.
1. Adam	139	930
2. Seth	121	912
3. Enos	114	905
4. Cainan	119	910
5. Mahalabel	122	895
6. Jared	117	962
7. Enoch	114	365
8. Methuselah	124	969
9. Lamech	117	777
10. Noah	159	950
Average	120½	858

No doubt the question of the true ages of the patriarchs will receive earnest attention at the hands of the revisors of the Old Testament. If the translations of the ages have been made by an incorrect rule, the revisors may be depended upon to correct them in accordance with the light which the ripest scholarship affords. Mr. Bryant, in his communication, calls attention to the fact that the late Dean Stanley, for years before his death, insisted that the numbers in the Old Testament were, in many instances, entirely too high, and that he believed that the correction of these apparent errors would relieve the bible of many objections now urged against the chronological record.

Special Cars.

Two European ladies enjoy the distinction of a railway carriage of their very own. One is the Baroness Rothschild, who has a perfect boudoir on wheels, in which she can enjoy the comforts of home while flying at express speed; the other is Mrs. J. W. Mackay, who, according to a Paris paper, has a carriage which is like a palace in its fairy appointments and decorations, costing $30,000, beside an annual tax of $2,000 for keeping it in running order, and a large additional charge for the cost of transportation.

Lemon Culture in Florida.

Florida lemons have not generally found favor in Eastern markets, owing to their large, thick skins and inferior flavor. A few individuals, however, who believed the soil of Florida adapted for the culture of that fruit as well as oranges, have been experimenting with lemon seedlings imported from Sicily and Messina, and planted them, it is claimed, with perfect success. A writer from Lake Poisett says:

"The lemon produced had much of the size of the old Florida fruit, but was thin-skinned, of bright golden color, and juicy beyond comparison. They at once took rank in market as the best lemons that were offered, and commanded a premium. Sales are reported for certain months of last season at $12.25 a box of 160 lemons. A peculiar fact of lemon culture is that the imported lemon can not be raised in Florida from the seed. Any seed will do for the stump, but to produce the perfect fruit the stump must be budded from the imported tree. The advantages of lemons over oranges are that the trees bear sooner; they bear larger crops, the fruit ripening continually for eight months, instead of a few months as is the case with the orange. Another advantage is that the season is longer than the orange, and the opportunity for marketing at good figures better."

"Since the culture of the lemon has become general the Floridians have learned the method of preparing the fruit for the market. The evenness of size so notable in a box of foreign lemons is secured by the use of a ring or 'sizer.' On the Mediterranean lemons are never left on the tree until they get their color. An attendant goes to each tree, passes a ring over each lemon, and when it fits the ring it is clipped and put in a packing house, where the bright yellow color is given them by subjecting them to fumes of sulphur. A packing house of this sort has been established by a Mr. Bean, at Jacksonville. He buys the lemons when green at about a cent and a half each, gives them the artificial coloring, and sells them for a handsome advance.

Amos's Book-Keeper.

We asked Amos how his boy was getting on at school.

"Pleg take dat boy; I dun tuck him way from dat school!"

"Why, what for?"

"Uh, oh! he wuz gittin' mos' too smart down dar wid dat book lurnin'. 'Twon't do fer some niggers to be too edgikatid."

"Why not, Amos?"

"Well, sah, jess take dat boy, frinstance. I put dat boy to keep books for me 'bont de selin' ob de garden truck. Well, sah, he jess writ down charges dar in de book fer all de truck dat I tuck out de gardin, an' charges fer all dat we eat in de house, an' den credit hisself wid de little 'mounts dat I let him hab 'long at odd 'casions, an' den he go an' add dom all up, and strick er balance, he say!"

"And how did you come out?"

"Come out? 'Fore de good Master, I didn't come out at all! Dat boy stuck me fer 'bout thutty-five dollars, 'sides his wages as de book-keeper--now dat's what de figgers sed."

"Well, what did you do?"

"I jess burn up dat book right dar, an' den 'charged de book-keepah, and hire

THE HENRY CASE.

Result of the Investigation of the Democratic Executive Committee.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, held April 20, 1881, at the Galt House, in Louisville, Ky., the following members were present, viz.: A. E. Richards, Chairman; J. M. Atherton, Ed. F. Madden, A. G. Caruth, Lucius Desha, Jr., and W. M. Beckner.

A letter from W. B. Maehen, dated Feb. 10, 1882, declining to serve as a member of the committee, was read. W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, was selected to fill the vacancy thus created.

A. E. Richards tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and the Secretary, J. M. Wright, was made a member in his place and J. M. Atherton unanimously chosen Chairman.

After transaction of other business, the following communication from T. J. Henry, the nominee of the late Democratic State Convention for the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals, was presented and read:

FRANKFORT, KY., April 14, 1882.—Chairman State Central Committee—My Dear Sir: During the last two or three weeks charges affecting my character and conduct, emanating from the Republican organ in Louisville, have been assiduously circulated by the press of the State.

Starting with a basis of fact, which I do not deny, but deeply regret, and am heartily ashamed of, these charges have been grossly magnified and exaggerated. I have refrained from noticing them partly from a sense of mortified pride and partly in the hope that the true circumstances of the case, while not accusing what I actually did would at least explain my act sufficiently to shield me from the shafts of malice and falsehood.

I am now satisfied that this expectation will not be realized, but that instead of receiving from my pursuers the forbearance which a generous manhood, if not an exact justice, would allow me, the accusations will become only the more magnified and shameless the longer I submit to them.

I am the nominee of the Democratic party for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. I have always been a Democrat, devoted to the principles and interests of the party. I am unwilling to have either put in jeopardy by any act of mine, and I beg you and the committee, of which you are the Chairman, to investigate the facts and determine whether, in your judgment, the continuation of my candidacy endangers the cause of Democracy in Kentucky. I shrink from no responsibility, wish to make no concealments and shall abide your decision.

I was intoxicated on the occasion specified. I have no doubt that I was as foolish as men commonly are in that condition. But it is not my nature to expose myself indecently, or to insult ladies, and I did nothing of the kind. But I wish you, sir, to leave no stone unturned until you have arrived at all the facts, the publication of which are alike due to me, the party and the public. I have only to say, in my own defense, that I had not previously touched a drop of ardent spirits for several years, and I promise, God helping me, never to touch another drop as long as I live. Very respectfully, T. J. HENRY

Thereupon the witnesses present on the occasion referred to in the letter of Capt. Henry, with the exception of W. D. King, whose written statements are hereto appended, were sent for and examined in the presence of the committee. Their statements are published with this report for the information of the public.

The committee did not by its action in making this investigation intend to assume the right or power to pass on the question of Capt. Henry's further candidacy as the nominee of the Democratic party. It simply accepted his invitation to ascertain the facts and submit them to the intelligence, fairness and good sense of the people of Kentucky.

The committee presents the manly, earnest letter of Capt. Henry, and the testimony embraces the statements of all the witnesses to the affair, and feels that it may with propriety make public the unanimous conclusion of its members that the nominee of the party, who comes endorsed by his friends and neighbors as an honorable man and qualified for the position, did not in any way expose his person or use improper language within the hearing of a single lady.

The committee agree fully with Captain Henry that it is very unfortunate and improper that he became intoxicated, but we believe further that he sincerely and honestly regrets his offense, which, censurable as it is in all cases, is not of the grave character that attacks his integrity as a man or forfeits his claim to the support of those whose delegates gave him the nomination of the party. The public generally recognize the temptation to which candidates are subjected, and, while the disposition to censure Captain Henry indicates a wholesome sentiment among our people, we should not go so far as to sacrifice an honorable man for the single offense which he does not deny and so solemnly pledges himself not to repeat.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, Instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles,itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. William's Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head, tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

BATCHELDER'S

Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881.

Indispensable to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

THE CHEAPEST AND THE BEST.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rebanding.

For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.

The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, addling, or breaking, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x4, weighs 20 pounds.

The last of the two hundred new cars for the Kentucky Central railroad were received from the factory last week. The railroad is now very fairly equipped.

Sales of Land.

The following changes in the ownership of land have been recorded at the office of the Clerk of the County Court since our last report:

John A. Crosby and wife and others, to Jacob A. Slack, 134 square poles of land in Mason county; consideration $1 and the conveyance of other land.

Ann Eliza Mountjoy to Sudie M. Trow, grantor's interest in 80 acres of land; consideration, $3,000.

Speaks for Itself.

There are different beers in this market, shipped here from different parts of the country, and the cost of transportation and handling of an inferior article, therefore it speaks for itself that you should prefer the National Genuine Export Beer. Call upon Fred. Otto, etc., these parties have the same constantly on hand. 225

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Major Thomas A. Ross has recovered and is at his post again.

Mr. A. C. Brewington, late of Carlisle, is about to remove to Nevada.

Prices Reduced.

John Wheeler, dealer in oysters, fish, game, fruit, etc., has made a heavy reduction in prices. Fresh fish at six, and eight cents a pound received daily. Canned goods at greatly reduced prices.

Challenge.

MAYSVILLE, KY., April 24, 1882.
Ed. Bulletin: Please announce that the Fifth Ward Picked Nine challenge any club in the city for a game of base-ball.

FIFTH WARD PICKED NINE.

The members of the Emmet Guards are requested to meet at Hon. J. D. Kehoe's office to-night at 7 o'clock as business of importance will be transacted.

We regret to announce that a little grandson of W. N. Howe, and son of Mr. Collins near Mayslick, one day last week had one of his hands badly mutilated in a cutting box.

The game of base-ball announced to place Saturday afternoon, between the Congress and Senate clubs, was postponed on account of the unfavorable weather. It will take place at a future day.

It is reported that Capt. Nick Buesen has sold the Montana to Capt. George G. Keith and some Kansas City parties, and that she enter the St. Louis and Kansas City trade under the command of Capt. Keith.

The Odd Fellows of Augusta, will celebrate Wednesday, the sixty-third anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellowship in the United States. All the business houses will be decorated on the occasion.

The Emmet Guards are expecting their arms and equipments by the train to-morrow. The company has been fully recruited and is now a part of the State Guard. It will be attached to the Third Battalion, Major J. R. Allen commanding.

MANY of the physicians of this city and county, have no doubt forgotten this section of the law: "It shall be the duty of all physicians and surgeons and midwives to keep a registry of all births and deaths at which they have professionally attended.

The McElroy school bill which provides for a submission to a vote of the people next August the question of levying an additional tax of three cents on the $100 of taxable property has passed the House. The bill consolidates the white and colored school funds and divides it equally, and provides that schools shall be kept separate. The measure will no doubt pass the Senate and will be approved by a vote of the people. It is a wise and just act.

The last of the two hundred new cars for the Kentucky Central railroad were received from the factory last week. The railroad is now very fairly equipped.

The testimony before the Committee investigating the case of Capt. Henry, referred to in the report will be printed to-morrow.

From present indications it seems very certain that there will be an immense crowd here on the 26th to attend the circus. It would be a good day to advertise in the DAILY BULLETIN.

MESSRS. DIETERICH & BRO., of the Kentucky Nursery, says that the fruit is not so badly damaged by the cold weather as was at first supposed. The quinces and peaches have been killed but much of the other fruit is safe and will mature.

The Yeoman says:

The arrival of Swiss immigrants at Louisville for the Laurel county Colony is a matter of almost daily occurrence. They are coming not only directly from the old country, but from other States of the Union. A few days since a Swiss family arrived from California to take up its fortunes with their fellow-countrymen in Laurel. The news from the Colony is very favorable.

THE Kentucky Military Institute News in speaking of the Emmet Guards, of this city, says:

The company is attached to the Third Battalion K. S. G., and the officers take rank from the 27th of February. This company is exclusively Irish, full of enthusiasm, and is expected to come well to the front in the State Guard.

A Paris despatch says:

Circumstances in the last few days prove that the depot will be removed in a very short time, as the office of the W. U. Telegraph Co. has received orders to move to as near the central portion of the city as possible, and a piece of property appraised and purchased near the site of the new depot by the Kentucky Central. This ends the depot question, which has agitated the citizens of this place for some months past.

MR. STEPHEN POTTER, of East Maysville, who has been a victim of consumption for some time past, died at one o'clock on Sunday morning. He was one of the best young men in the city and leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn his death. The funeral took place this morning.

At a meeting of the colored people held at Boston, in the 19th inst., a resolution was passed "to ask the colored people as American citizens to demand their rights in all sections of the country." The Maysville Republican probably takes its cue from this, when it says in regard to the school fund that the colored people merely "ask what they have the right to take."

Down They Go.

Meaning the prices of job printing. The following low rates will hereafter rule at the BULLETIN Job Printing Rooms. They are the lowest ever offered in this city by any printing establishment. The reduction does not mean careless printing and inferior stock, but on the contrary first-class press work and composition and the best quality of material:

BILL Heads per ream.....	$5 00
Letter Heads per ream.....	4 50
Packet Note Heads per ream.....	3 00
Commercial Note Heads per ream.....	2 75
Envelopes per thousand.....	3 00
Visiting Cards, fifty.....	25c

And other printing at proportionately low prices.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

H. Sam True was in Dover Sunday. There will be a dance Wednesday night. Don't forget the parade Wednesday.

Prescription 50 cents, whisky by the bottle 25 cents. Boys will have it Sunday or not.

Charley Gardner, of Rome, was in this place Sunday.

Plennie Norris will leave this week for Cincinnati, where he has accepted a position in a large planing mill.

T. F. Ellis was in West Union, last week, at the trial of Mrs. Lewis. She was honorably discharged at that place.

Mr and Mrs Arthur, who have been some months at Mason Ohio, have removed to this place again. Mr A has accepted a position as trimmer in Yago & Beasley's carriage shop in your city.

Miss Dora King is visiting friends at German town.

Mr Wm P Dieterich and Miss Ida D. Brook, over of this place, were married Sunday night. They have the best wishes of all their friends.

The largest Newfoundland dog in Maysville is owned by Mayor January. It weighs one hundred and fifty pounds and is not yet full grown.

Winter Life in Holland.

In Holland the fun of winter life takes many forms; and winter facilitates locomotion, as the highways of summer available for trek-schults become the best thoroughfares for those who skate. In this way directly the ice bears, visits are made and distances traveled which cannot be done in summer; and, instead of going round and round, as we do here, on a small confined space, the Dutch make up a party and pay a visit to some neighboring town or village. A bright winter's morning is always exhilarating, especially to those whose red particles are doing their work satisfactorily; how much more so when cheerful company, free exercise, variety of character, and constant change of scene all tend to mark the day as a red-letter one; and, to crown all, comes the pleasant sensation of feeling deservedly tired, with a night's rest well earned. Should the frost be sufficiently severe, a river is most interesting, being on a large scale and partaking more of the character of a fair, which is the case, for instance, on the Maas, at Rotterdam. This is very well pictured in some of the old Dutch engravings; one particularly gives an admirable idea of the whole thing, showing sledges; ice-boats, stalls, booths. Now, the freezing of the Maas is most uncertain; while other waters are frozen hard, the Rotterdammers still remain land-bound. The Maas runs very strongly, and the difficulty is for the first coating of ice to form. When a severe frost catches the still water during the night, then "once begun, soon done," and the crews, who turn their boats at night, wake up in the morning to find themselves frozen in. The canals naturally soon freeze over, and the trek-schult traffic is supplanted by baggage-sledges, large and small. Near dwelling houses are seen the little box sledges for the children. These are precisely the same as the seventeenth century contrivances; the child sits with just room for its feet, and, with stick in each hand, pushes astern and propels itself ahead. The adult sledges are in some cases simply gorgeous, as the opportunity affords great latitude for form, great scope for variety of gear, harness and trappings. They are generally rather of the swan outline, the "sleighers" sitting in the body, the driver perched at the back, as on the tail, the sweeping irons following the curve of the swan's neck; over these run the reins. One horse generally constitutes the team, but in an old engraving three horses in single file are shown drawing a sledge de luxe. — Good Words.

A Hospital for Animals.

The most curious of all the institutions of Bombay is the hospital which the Hindoos have established for animals. Within the inclosure of several acres, located in one of the densest quarters of the city, the sick and maimed of all domestic species are collected in sheds and stables for treatment or rest. Every morning early wagons are sent throughout the city to gather the waifs and outcasts, that nothing with life may be destroyed, in violation of the Vedic law. Birds, as well as beasts, are afforded shelter, not excluding repulsive vultures and the scavenger crows. Dogs in every stage of scurvy, full of loathsome sores, barked and howled in distracting chorus as we passed their crowded cages. Cows and buffaloes of all sizes, old or diseased, and dilapidated, bony horses, stood or lay in melancholy silence, as if patiently awaiting the relief of death. These, with helpless, deserted kittens, that must not be drowned; chickens with spots bare of feathers; monkeys scratching and tearing at their troubled hides, and perfumes not to be described, will afford some conception of this strange asylum. — From a Bombay Letter.

THE Chicago Hotel World says, "There is still too much of the a la business in bills of fare." There is indeed, and not enough of it in the little sample dishes that the waiter brings. Pomme de Terre a la jurendiere and pork and beans a la New Englandienne may be ever so fine, but if there is only a teaspoonful of them dabbed onto a little plate it is a vexation of spirit. No one likes to open his mouth for a camel and swallow a gnat. It is wrenching as the Old Harry.
